Awakening

We find ourselves awakening, as though from a long slumber. The slow recovery from the pandemic forcing us to relate to Rip Van Winkle's surprise to find a changing world. Spring is bursting forth with life again, but that is not all. The world around us is, indeed, awakening to changing social, political and environmental landscapes as well. The Art League of Long Island asks you to share with us your work that features your expression of our world as it acclimates to a new normal.

Exhibition Juror

The Art League is honored to have Kathleen Gurchie serve as juror for the Awakening exhibition. She is a member of the Art League of Long Island's Board of Directors.

Kathleen Gurchie's eponymous design company specializes in designing interiors and painting interior wall murals. As an artist, decorative painter, and sculptor, she works on decorators' teams to achieve anything from new finishes to repairing the old. After earning her BFA from Boston University Kathleen worked for industrial designer Eva Zeisel and furniture designer Leonard Eisen. When not designing she paints and sculpts with mixed media paint skins. Kathleen resides with her husband Albert Buerkel in Lindenhurst.
