

Call for Artists: Unfinished Revolutions

It's Raynham Hall Museum's first Call for Artists Exhibition! We invite artists from Long Island and New York City to submit entries for our upcoming exhibition, Unfinished Revolutions. A jury panel will select the artworks included in the show and the opening reception will be held on Thursday, April 10, 2025. The exhibition will run through September 21, 2025.

Theme

From the war for independence to the social movements of the 21st century, the history of New York has represented the broader American experience and all its triumphs as well as its struggles and evolving identity. The 250th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence offers a milestone moment to reflect on our nation's past and reaffirm our commitment to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; the revolutionary ideals that continue to guide the fight for rights and justice.

Overview

Artists may submit up to two works for consideration. Two and three-dimensional original works in any medium, including video/digital works are accepted. Oversize artworks may not be chosen due to space limitations within the museum, and works may not exceed 30 lbs. All accepted work must be prepared for exhibition display. If you're submitting a video or digital work, a device must be included for the exhibition (tablet size preferred).

An Artist Statement is required with your entry form (up to 1,500 characters, approximately 225-250 words). Artists' statements will be included in the exhibition.

We encourage artwork sales! All sales will be facilitated through Raynham Hall Museum on behalf of the artist. We ask that artists donate 15% of the proceeds of sold artwork to Raynham Hall Museum, so please price your works accordingly.
